

VOICE Missions Flight Deposit

Because of the valuable service that you provide as a VOICE Missions volunteer HTC Foundation will pay for the entire cost of your airplane ticket IF you stay for the entirety of your agreed term. If you choose to leave early, or if VOICE Missions or your sponsor decides to send you home, you will be required to reimburse your sponsor for the cost of your ticket.

We take our mission here very seriously. As missionaries, you are ambassadors of Christ, and as volunteer teachers you are trusted with the care and protection of young children. Because of this immense responsibility, we expect all our team members to be models of good character both on their team and in their community.

Possible reasons for sending a team member home could include, but is not limited to:

1. Bad Character: We certainly don't expect our volunteers to be perfect, and we understand that as fallen humans we all demonstrate bad personal character at times. But if a team member consistently demonstrates character that is opposed to the values of VOICE Missions we will send that person home.
2. Breaking the law: As a guest in Taiwan VOICE Missions volunteers are expected to obey Taiwanese law.
3. Not fulfilling responsibilities: You will have responsibilities both on your team and at your school. If you are consistently not fulfilling these responsibilities, you will be sent home.

All new VOICE Missions applicants are required to make a $1000. flight deposit. If you demonstrate good character and fulfill your responsibilities this money will be returned to you at the end of your first semester. But if we need to send you home early, this deposit will be used to reimburse your sponsor for your travel expenses.

If your deposit does not sufficiently cover your travel expenses, your sponsor may deduct the additional sum from your living stipend, or ask you to pay out of pocket.
